This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

There are dues uncollected to the amount of about $225. The year has been one of extraordinary financial prosperity. For the first time in the history of the Association, the revenue from ordinary sources (not including lectures) has been more than sufficient to meet the running expenses. If the present public interest in the Association can be maintained, there can be no doubt about its future prosperity. But our present success is a pledge of still greater success to come.

NUMBER OF MEMBERS.

|---|---|---|
| The number of members at the date of the last Annual Report, including 59 life members, was | | 716 |
| New members added during the year, including two life members | | 234 |
| | | 950 |
| Decrease by removal | 80 | |
| Decrease by resignation | 17 | |
| Decrease by death | 7 | —104 |
| Present number, including 61 life members | | 846 |

During the year the number of ladies' memberships has advanced from nineteen to thirty-one.

CONTRIBUTORS TO LIBRARY.

The Association is indebted to E. D. Holton, J. W. Hoyt, Hon. John F. Potter, Col. J. D. Graham, (U. S. N.,) G. W. Featherstonehaugh, Wm. Daniel, C. Adams, Geo. W. Chapman, S. Chapman, Mrs. Chas. Cain, C. Durkee, G. G. Meade, Col. L. H. D.

Crane, and others; and to the Patent Office and the Department of the Interior for valuable contributions of books, maps, papers, &c.; also to W. H. Sherman for several fine photographs of distinguished lecturers.

In accordance with the provisions of the Statute, granting copies of all State publications to literary institutions which have a library of three hundred volumes, the President of the Association has filed with the Secretary of State a verified application for such publications, and has received and delivered to the Association copies of all those of which the edition was not exhausted. These books, contributed by the State, are valuable, and necessary to the completeness of the library. Copies of all State publications should hereafter be secured for the Association as soon as they are published.

Many reports of kindred and other associations have been received, and are on file.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

|---|---|---|
| The number of volumes in the library at the date of the last Annual Report, was | | 3,798 |
| Number added during the year by purchase | | 624 |
| Number added during the year by donations | | 175 |
| Number added during the year by binding periodicals and pamphlets | | 31 |
| | | 4,631 |
| Number of volumes sold | 49 | |
| Number of volumes lost and paid for | 4— | 53 |
| Present number of volumes | | 4,578 |

We fear that an actual enumeration of the volumes would make it apparent that a considerable number had been stolen from the shelves. The Library has become so large, and the rooms of the Association so much a place of resort, that a proper care for the safety of the books requires that they should be so enclosed that no one could take them from the shelves, except the Librarian and his assistant.

In the Reading Room additions have been made, during the year, to the number of newspapers and magazines. The room is almost constantly thronged with readers.

CATALOGUES.

At the commencement of the year the Board of Directors discussed the subject of printing a new catalogue of the entire Library The result of this discussion was the conclusion that, as a supplement had been printed the year before, a new catalogue was not absolutely necessary. They therefore decided to postpone this expense and devote all the funds, beyond what were required to meet the running expenses of the Association, to the purchase of books. Now, however, a sufficient number of books having been added to the Library to form a new supplement, and the first supplement being out of print, the new catalogue seems to have become a positive necessity.

LECTURES.

The Lecture Committee make the following report of the receipts and expenses of the course of lectures, including Gough's extra lecture, and Miss Stevens' reading :

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Receipts from sale of season tickets | | $746 00 |
| Recipts from sale of evening tickets | | 708 56 |
| | | $1,454 56 |
| Paid to lecturers | $532 25 | |
| Expense of printing, advertising, telegraphing, &c | 163 87 | |
| Discount on uncurrent money | 2 44 | |
| Hall rent | 180 00 | — $878 56 |
| Net profits | | $576 00 |

The net profits of last year's course, which was regarded as eminently successful, were $463 19.

For the first time in many years our course of lectures has beed carried through without the failure of a single lecturer, whose name was announced at its commencement. Only those who have themselves served on a lecture committee can appreciate the difficulties in the way of such a result, or know what care and energy were neccessary to accomplish it.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees.

CHARLES CAVERNO,
President.

SKETCH

OF THE

History of the Association.

This record is compiled from information gathered from official sources, and from past officers of the Association, and is presented here as a collection of facts, which will have an increasing interest for members, both old and new.*

On Wednesday evening December 8th, 1847, a number of citizens of the, then, new city of Milwaukee, met in the parlor of the United States Hotel (corner of East Water and Huron streets, burned in 1854,) in pursuance of a call published in the newspapers, to take preliminary steps for the formation of a Young Men's Literary Association. S. Osgood Putnam, (now of California) was president of the meeting, and E. P. Allis, secretary. After considerable consultation and discussion, on motion of H. W. Tenney, resolutions were adopted in favor of the establishment of a Library in connection with a Reading Room and Debating Society, and for the appointment of a committee to draft a Constitution for the organization of a Young Men's Association. The committee consisted of Messrs. Putnam, Mason, Vliet, Tenney, Holton and VanDyke.

On the 13th of December the committee submitted the draft of a Constitution which was considerably discussed and finally adopted by the meeting, but at an adjourned meeting, Dec. 18th, the subject was again discussed, and the record shows that objections were made to 13 of the 19 articles which composed the Constitution, and the whole matter was referred to a new committee, who, on the 20th of December, reported a revised document, which, in turn, was discussed and rejected, and the original report, somewhat amended, was finally adopted, and the Young Men's Association had a beginning.

* The Committee are under great obligations to J. R. Brigham, Esq , for valuable assistance rendered by him in the preparation of this Sketch. His personal recollections of the early history of the Association have enabled us to give a much fuller and more interesting account of that period than could possibly have been derived from the records of the Association. H. W. Tenney, now of Madison, has also furnished interesting reminiscences.

The original Constitution divided members into two classes, by age; those over 35 years being classed as honorary members, and required to pay $5,00 initiation, and those between 18 and 35, being regular members, and paying an initiation fee of $2,00. Both classes paid $2.00 yearly. Life members were admitted to either class on payment of $25.00, in one sum, and paid no yearly dues. Besides these classes of members, persons under 18 years of age had the privilege of the library on payment of dues, but had no vote, and were ineligible to office. The offices were divided between the two classes of members. The honorary members taking five trustees, and the regular members two trustees, the president, two vice presidents, the treasurer and the corresponding and recording secretaries. This classification of officers was not adopted until after considerable discussion, and at the end of a year the sytem was revised, the classification dispensed with and the board of officers established, as it still remains. The first election of officers, to hold till the regular election in January, was had in the Common Council Rooms, on the 20th of December, 1847, though the election was not completed until the following week. A list of the officers is given elsewhere. The Constitution fixed the Wednesday following the second Tuesday in January, as the day of the annual election, and accordingly the first annual election was held January 19, 1848.

So far the proceedings of the Association had shown a special aptitude for debate and animated discussion, but after several weeks spent in the settlement of fundamental principles and the preliminaries for a permanent organization, and after the election of a full board of officers, it still remained to secure members and to give the Association practical existence, and there were est and active men, who undertook this somewhat thankless task, and to their labor we owe it, that we now have an Association and a Library. On the 5th of February they reported a subscription of $1513, and a membership consisting of 52 life members, 20 honorary members and 49 regular members. A room was leased in what was then the second, now third, floor of the building still standing at the north west corner of Wisconsin and Main streets, at a rent of $100 per year, "furnished with tables, chairs, bookcases, and other necessary fixtures for the use of the Association," in a style, of which an idea may be had, from the fact that the bills for the same amounted to considerably less than $50. The sum of $500 was appropriated for the purchase of books, and this, together with some donations, and some books received in payment of subscriptions, produced a library, which, at the end of the first year of the Association, numbered 810 volumes, and together with eleven of the leading English and American Quarterlies and Monthlies, constituted the attractions of the Room, which was open on Wednesday afternoon and Saturday evening of each week, under the charge of Edward Hopkins, who volunteered to do duty as the first librarian, and to whose care and systematic labor during the first two years of the existence of the Association, very much is due.

At the annual meeting in January, 1849, the Constitution was revised and amended, as has been stated. The initiation fee was reduced to $1.00 for all members. The time of the annual election was changed to December. During this year, the interest in the library continued and grew, and for a part of the time the Room was kept open every evening. The number of members rose to 146. The receipts of the year were $303.44, which, with a surplus from the previous year, gave a fund of which $219.35 were expended for books, and $119,28 for incidental expenses. Two hundred and ninety nine new volumes were added to the library, and the list of periodicals was enlarged. We may presume that the directors found some difficulty in collecting dues and subscriptions, from the fact that it was officially recommended at the annual meeting, that measures be taken to procure the legal incorporation of the Association in order that it might enforce its collections, though we are not aware that to this day the legal business of the Association has been a profit to any attorney.

The third annual meeting was held December 4, 1849, and showed that the interest in the Association was well maintained. The attendance was large and spirited, and the discussion of various matters and plans for the benefit of the Association, continued until a late hour. A committee was appointed to canvass the city for new members and subscriptions; the necessity of a new and more attractive room was urged; a course of lectures was proposed, and other suggestions made and considered, all very much the same in kind, we may venture to say, that have been proposed, considered and discussed, among its members and directors, every year, from that to this. At this time so much interest was manifested that an adjourned meeting was held and more discussion was had, and among other things, it was strongly urged that the only way to reach the object desired, the establishment of a good public library, was to create a joint stock company, whose affairs should be managed as any other business operation. It was however, not found practicable to get the consent of all the subscribers to this arrangement, and that objection to the plan has grown stronger every year since. During this year a lecture before the Association was given by Chancellor Lathrop. A new room was obtained in the then new Martin's Block. Mr. Hopkins gave up the charge of the library, and Thomas Hyslop was appointed librarian and received a small salary. Eighty new members were added during the year, and the course of the Association showed no step backward.

Dec. 4, 1850—The fourth annual election and the beginning of the fourth year of the Association. During this year was commenced the first course of lectures before the Association, and although the lecturers were home men, and the admittance fee quite small ($1.00 for a family, to the course, and ten cents a single admission,) the result was satisfactory, and some of the lectures attracted considerable attention, and gave rise to some newspaper discussion. Debates were also started during this year, in the fall of 1851, and for some time created a good deal of interest and weekly excitement. $360.07 were expended in books and periodicals this year, and one hundred new books were added to the library which then numbered 1320 volumes. The other expenditures of the year amounted to $157.92.

The fifth annual election, December 3d, 1851, was a scene of great excitement; not so much from the number of votes, as from the kind, as the record shows the whole number cast to have been 68 But the report of the inspectors, and the tradition of the times, tell us that in the anxiety of contending aspirants for official honor some forgot an article in the Constitution which prescribed the qualifications of voters, and a rigid inquiry on the part of three grave inspectors of election disclosed the fact that some illegal votes had been cast. A long report was made, upon which a stormy debate arose, and even acrimony is said to have been exhibited; but the difficulty was finally surmounted by the remarkable (though the event would show, not unwise,) proposition by the new President elect, that all the officers who claimed to have been elected should resign and allow a new election, which was agreed to. The election was held December 9th, and the result was that some of the self-sacrificing men who had resigned, to save the Society, were again elected, but others were not. It is a matter of dispute to this day, among the most active participants in that wrangle, which party was really in earnest and which only feigned an excitement, to keep up an interest in the meetings of the Association.

In November of this year, new rooms for the Association were obtained on the first floor of the large new block of W. P. Young, corner of Wisconsin and Main streets; but the library had hardly been established there before the whole block was burned to the ground, and the Association was indebted to its active members and friends for saving its property. The small loss sustained was fully covered by an insurance; and the Association next found a landlord in S. L. Rood, and occupied his rooms over store No. 204 East Water street, the entrance at that time being from Wisconsin street.

In March, 1852, the Association was incorporated by act of the Legislature, its then Board of Directors being made corporators. The time of the annual meeting and election was changed to October. During this year a new catalogue was published — the second.

October 5th, 1852, the sixth annual election. In the winter of this year a second course of lectures, by home lecturers, was given. They were fairly attended, though they did not draw large audiences, except the two lectures on the "Spanish Inquisition," by the (then) Rev. Dr. Ives. These attracted full houses and made considerable sensation. More profit was realized out of a musical entertainment, undertaken by the Directors, for the benefit of the library. By aid of some members of the Musical Society, and some generously given assistance of ladies and gentlemen not accustomed to public exhibitions of their talent, the concert was well attended and well received, and a net profit of $70 was realized, which was applied to the purchase of books, and produced a valuable addition to the library.

October 5th, 1853, commenced the seventh, and as it proved, a most important year of the Association. At this time, notwithstanding its library and reading room afforded pleasure and profit to its members, they were few, and the Association was hardly known to the public generally — it filled no important place in the public mind. Its reading room was most of the time without visitors. Its annual meetings, which at first had been attended and participated in by many of our best and most influential citizens, were no longer interesting, and passed almost without notice. Anxious Directors all agreed that something must be done to make the library more attractive, and to induce new members to join. Among other plans, it was sometimes proposed to unite with the Musical Society in the purchase, or lease, of some central lot and the erection of a fine hall; but this it was thought best, after deliberation, to abandon, or at least postpone till it was well settled that the Association could pay the rent of its present rooms. About this time a destructive fire left our landlord, Mr. Rood, without a place of business, and he gave his attention to his tenant —the Association. He became Librarian, and by dint of much industry and great skill in making it uncomfortable for any body he applied to who did not join, and very comfortable and pleasant for all who did, he gained many new members to the Association. He went into the street with a subscription paper—an undertaking, at that time, quite too desperate for any body else — and soon realized a sum which put the library and reading room in good condition. A new carpet, new gas fixtures, a change of the clumsy book-cases which had come down from the beginning, for a neat and commodious shelving, and a general brushing up and improvement of all the interior arrangements of the Association, were his satisfactory vouchers to subscribers. The library was kept open during business hours, day and evening, and became a pleasant and frequented place of resort. The great event of the year, however, was the course of lectures. It had at that time become the fashion in other Western cities to call wise men from the East and give the citizens of the new country a chance to see who is who, and learn what is what in the old, by hebdomadal lectures. It was determined that the Young Men's Association should do this for Milwaukee. It should be remembered that at this time Milwaukee was a far and almost unknown country to lecturers. No railroad then connected us with the East; and in the winter season we had been accustomed to regard ourselves as more completely shut out from communication with the seaboard, than those who only know Milwaukee as it now is can well imagine. But we had a telegraph and a part of the Milwaukee & Mississippi Railroad, and it was decided to try. It happened that the management of the matter fell into the hands of one who had enthusiasm, perseverance and business capacity, and to him chiefly (though aided by others) is due the final complete and surprising success of our first course of lectures by men from abroad, — we so style it, though perhaps no lecture gave more satisfaction than that by our own Mr. Ryan. We need not say, for any one who was in Milwaukee during that winter, that we refer to B. W. Griswold, (now of New York city) who, as chairman of the Lecture Committee, was untiring in his attention from first to last. As a precaution, thought to be necessary, in the first place, a guaranty subscription was obtained from some forty persons to protect the Association in case of loss by the venture. Season tickets, for families and individuals, were hawked about the streets by the committee and other members of the Board, until $700 were realized before the lectures commenced. Advertising was done in all the usual modes, and also by members of the Board personally, who, one and all, talked lectures everywhere, until it was almost true that the chairman and his committee neither did, talked, nor thought anything but lectures contiually. The result was a success which gave the Association a net profit of $833.39 for its library and a recognized position as an institution in Milwaukee. The annual report of the doings of the year shows: total receipts, $1,288.54; total expenditures, $1,148.36, (this statement includes only net profits of lectures as receipts); an addition to the library of 351 volumes by purchase; 102 new members added to the Association; a new catalogue, and a prosperous condition of things generally.

October 4, 1854, the eighth regular election. By a change in the Rules, the Board elected at this time continued in office only till May. They were expected to provide a course of lectures, which had come to be a recognized demand of the people, and duty of the Association. Ten lectures were given at a cost of $897.30, and with a net profit to the Association of $358.46. During the term, forty-one new members were added. The expenses, beside lectures, were $596.51.

The time of the election having been changed, to give time to prepare for the annual courses of lectures, the ninth annual election was held May 2, 1855. This year our Association formally joined with that of Chicago in obtaining a course of lectures, both Associations being able to offer inducements and to secure lecturers which neither alone could have done. The expenses of the course were $1,606.85, and the net profits were $360. This result was not regarded as satisfactory by the committee, who report that the same course in Chicago cleared over $1,500. During the year 140 new members were added, and 120 volumes were purchased for the library. The total receipts (including lectures) were $2,377.23; the expenses (beside lectures) were about $600.

May 7, 1856—Election. This year it was not thought best to undertake a full course of lectures, to occur weekly, for which tickets should be sold in advance, as heretofore; but the committee determined to secure such as they could obtain of those lecturers coming West, who would, in the opinion of the committee, draw good houses in Milwaukee. Eight lectures were given (among them, three by John B. Gough,) at a cost of $768.32, and with a clear profit of $359.35. About 400 new books were added to the library by purchase, beside many valuable works by donation; forty new members were added. During this year, the Directors concluded (not without hesitation) that the Association needed, and would support, new and larger rooms and a larger yearly expenditure, and the suite of rooms now occupied were rented for a term of years. During this year, also, the newspaper reading-room was established and furnished with twenty-five of the leading dailies of this country and Canada. The gross receipts this year were $2,380.19, and the expenditures were $2,303.12.

May 6, 1857—The eleventh year of the Association. At the beginning of this year the Association took possession of its new rooms and materially increased its annual expenses; and the Board found that it required some labor and care to provide for all the demands on the treasury. A careful examination disclosed that, while the apparent membership was much larger, the Association had, in fact, but about 300 reliable paying members, beside 40 life members. Lectures, as a source of revenue, were not available; their novelty had worn off. Indeed, a glance at the names of those who had already been presented to Milwaukee audiences, will show that the Association had pretty well gleaned the field of celebrities in that line, and that there were not many more whom people would pay to look at. Geo. W. Curtis, Horace Mann, Bayard Taylor, Horace Greeley, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Parke Godwin, James Russell Lowell, John G. Saxe, Josiah Quincy, jr., John Pierpont, John B. Gough, Wendell Phillips, T. Starr King, Henry Ward Beecher, George Sumner, and Dr. H. W. Bellows, were in the lists of those who had been here. The Association could not afford to risk a course of lectures, the profit of which to the treasury would be doubtful. For the purpose of testing the question, one popular lecturer was brought here and every reasonable effort was made to get him an audience; but the result was a failure and a loss to the Association, and no more were attempted. The great commercial crisis had so darkened all prospects, that it was often a matter of serious consideration with the Directors how they were to pay the debts and expenses incurred during the year and leave the treasury sound at the close. It was determined to make a special effort for more life members, and at the personal solicitation of Directors, seventeen gentlemen joined the Association as life members and paid into its treasury $425. 142 yearly memb were added, and at the close of the year the Board were able to report all debts paid and a balance on hand. The total receipts of the year (no lectures) were $1,351.29, and the expenditures $1,284.35.

May 5th, 1858, began another year of the Association. It will be seen by the list of officers, that at the election this year, the Board of Directors was almost wholly changed. It is but just to those gentlemen who composed the previous Board, some of whom had been connected with its management and had worked for the Association from its start, and most of whom had been associated in its direction for more than half a decade, to say that they did not leave their work, nor abandon their charge, till they saw the Association established, its position assured, and its prospects of power and usefulness bright. They now felt that they might claim a discharge and leave the work to those who might bring to it a fresher zeal, but could not feel a deeper interest in the prosperity of our Association.

The election this year was remarkable for the interest shown and the number of votes cast, being nearly two hundred—nearly three times the number of late years. The Board thus elected carried on the work vigorously. They added to the number of periodicals and newspapers of the reading-room; they increased the salary of the Librarian to compensate him for increase of duty with the increase of members; they adopted the plan of purchasing new and popular books as soon as published, and advertising them as they were received; they made special efforts for increasing the membership, and 296 new members were added during the year; they added to the library, by purchase, donation and binding of pamphlets, seven hundred and ninety-three volumes. The total receipts of the year were $2,522.29; the expenditures were $2,506.17. Included in the receipts was the sum of $786.67, received on insurance to cover loss by a fire in the building, which had nearly been more serious. Lectures were tried again at a cost of $866.10, and a profit of $241.15. The Board also revised and amended the General Rules and Regulations, adapting them to the wants of the Association in its present condition. Those Rules were adopted at the annual meeting.

May 5th 1859—This year was a most successful one for the Association. A good deal of interest had been taken in the election, and although three tickets were in the field, the "Regular Ticket" (so called) was elected throughout. Nearly 300 votes were cast, a number of new members added, and a general awakening in regard to the interests of the Association was the result. A new set of "Rules and Regulations of the Board of Directors" was adopted, to accompany the revised Rules and Regulations of the Society, adopted at the last annual meeting, and the Rules of the Library and Reading Room were also revised by the committee in charge of that department. Everything in the power of the Board was done to improve the condition of the Association and to enlarge its means of usefulness. An address to the public was prepared by a committee, and extensively circulated, and a canvass of the city similar to that of last year resulted in a considerable increase of membership. The whole number of members added during the year was 237. A musical and literary entertainment undertaken for the benefit of the library, proved, however, that the public could not yet be relied upon with certainty to support the directors in their endeavors to push forward the institution, as the net profits of the evening amounted to the enormous sum of $4.25! During the year, application was made by the "Builders and Architects Association" for the purpose of forming a union with the Association, and a committee was appointed to confer with that body; but after a full hearing of their purposes and demands, it was found to be inexpedient to meet their wishes, and the matter was accordingly dropped.

The course of lectures given this year proved highly successful, the receipts amounting to $1134.28, and the net profits to $463,-19. The improvements in the library were also extensive, over 400 volumes having been added, of which 155 were donations. Among the most extensive donors, it seems proper to mention Mr. John Hepburn, who contributed many valuable works, more especially in a department of literature in which the library was greatly deficient, and the "friends of the new church in Milwaukee," who enriched our shelves with a splendid edition of the complete wooks of Emanuel Swedenburg. The Association is also under a deep debt of gratitude to the Hon. John F. Potter, for the handsome manner in which he supplied the library with the public documents at his disposal; and the election of that gentleman as a life member of the Association, was a fitting acknowledgement of the interest uniformly manifested by him in its welfare. A second supplementary catalogue was published during the year. The entire receipts of the Association for the year were $2153.21, and the expenditures $2080.47.

May 7th, 1860—The election of officers for this year was more severely contested, and excited a larger degree of public interest, than ever before in the history of the Association. The week which intervened between the annual meeting and the day of election (a change resulting from the Revised Rules and Regulations adopted the year before,) gave time for the holding of meetings and the discussion of the merits of the various candidates nominated. By the established custom of the Association the ticket first nominated claims to be the "Regular Ticket," and whatever comes after that is compelled to assume some other name. On this occasion half a dozen different tickets were put in circulation, but before election day, a consolidation was effected, and the field was left clear for the two tickets named respectively the "Regular" and "Opposition." And bravely was the battle fought. Many of our leading professional and business men entered the contest as if the most momentous consequences were depending upon it. Every member was canvassed and arguments the most convincing used on both sides. Newspaper squibs appeared preferring the most serious charges againt the candidates, flaming placards were posted on every available corner, and the rooms presented a scene of excitement never surpassed at the polls on any political election in the city. The result was the election of the entire "Regular Ticket." Nearly 500 votes were cast. It is much to be desired that something of the kind could be stirred up every year, as it undoubtedly tends to awaken a lively interest in the Association, and sets its objects before the public mind in the most advantageous light.

The year proved one of extraordinary financial prosperity for the Association, and to quote the language of the Annual Report of the Directors, "for the first time in the history of the Association the revenues from ordinary sources (not including lectures) were more than sufficient to meet the running expenses." The total receipts for the year were $2883.61, and the expenditures $2697.68. In the month of September a fire took place in the library, but it was fortunately discovered and extinguished before much damage was done. The amount ($250,) received from the Insurance Company, amply covered the injury sustained. During the year, 234 new members were added, making the whole membership 845, a number which will compare favorably with that of similar institutions in many larger and much older cities. One fact worth noting is that the ladies' membership increased during this year from 19 to 31. The course of lectures managed by O. E. Britt, Esq., was one of the most successful ever given by the Association—the net profits footing up to $576. The improved condition of the Association having greatly increased the business devolving upon the Librarian, an Assistant was accordingly appointed at a salary of $4.00 per month, which was afterward raised to $8.00. During the year 624 volumes were added to the library at a cost of about $800.

May 13th, 1861—This election passed with much less stir than for several years previous, owing to the excited state of the country at that time. The Board found the Association in a highly prosperous condition, but it is not to be expected that much progress will be made, during a time when all public institutions of this character must suffer more or less from the terrible consequences of the rebellion, which is menacing the very existence of the Government under which we live—a government, it should here be said, whose genius is to foster every enterprise of a peaceful and improving nature. It is not the intention of the Directors, however, to relax their efforts for the welfare and improvement of the Association, as the publication of this catalogue will sufficiently indicate. The large additions made to the list of newspapers and periodicals, is another evidence of their intention not to diminish the advantages and attractions offered by the Association; and it is earnestly to be hoped that the public support will not be withdrawn from an institution capable of exerting so large a degree of usefulness, and that nothing will occur to stay its advancement in the career of prosperity upon which it has now so fairly entered.

Catalogue.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

It will aid the reader in the use of the following catalogue, to bear in mind, that this is not a classified catalogue, nor technically speaking, a descriptive catalogue, neither does it attempt to furnish the popular designation of Books,—about which there would probably be no uniform agreement.

The plan adopted has been, firstly, to place each work, alphabetically, under the name, if known, or nom de plume of the author, editor or translator (making the proper distinction in the latter cases); and, secondly, under its literal title, or, if abridged, to do so as nearly as possible in the words of the original. On the shelves, the Books are arranged numerically, and classified according to subject.

Consideration of size and price, has compelled the abridgment of lengthy titles of Books, and the omission of all personal titles, unless essential parts of names, or when used by way of explanation, when the christian names are not known, and to distinguish authors having the same initials.

For volumes of "Executive Documents" wholly devoted to one subject, the reader is referred to the letters to which their specific titles respectively belong; and, for late volumes of Reports originally published in separate form, to the "Executive" or "Miscellaneous" Documents of subsequent years.

The subject of a memoir or life, is not necessarily to be found under the appropriate letter, except the work is partially or altogether autobiographical.

Books without an acknowledged or attributed authorship, can, of course, only be found in the "Catalogue by titles."

 Provision has been made in the numbering for future additions to the several departments.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

OF THE

Young Men's Association

MAY, 1863.

To the Members of the Young Men's Association :

In submitting to you in behalf of the Board of Directors this statement of the condition of our Association, we feel no small degree of pride and pleasure that it still exists, with its power and influence unimpaired, and with the most encouraging hopes for the future.

It was not without many fears that the present Board of officers assumed the management of the Association. At the time of their election the Southern rebellion had reached its greatest magnitude. The community, disheartened by a few early reverses, felt but little interest in any affairs, except those of personal or national importance. It could not be expected that the Association should receive the same generous support which had been given it in former years.

Although the civil war now convulsing the country, has destroyed all kindred societies in the South, and has crippled many at the North, it has neither paralyzed nor weakened our own. The Association has not only suffered no decline, but has enjoyed a year of prosperity unparalleled in its history.

A few months after the present Board came into office a large number of the members responded to the call of the President for additional volunteers.

One of the Directors accepted a Captain's commission and with the assistance of other members organized the "Young Men's Association Guard" (now Co. B, 24th Wis. Vol.) and recruited its ranks principally from our institution.

Other members are serving in different regiments in the fields, and in various positions from Commanders of Divisions to private soldiers are attesting their patriotism and courage.

Some have fallen in battle, and others have wasted away with disease in hospitals. Although the list of old members has in this way been greatly diminished, the increase by new members has largely exceeded the withdrawal.

|---|---|
| The members now number | 1159 |
| Members at last annual meeting | 924 |
| Increase during the year | 235 |

LIBRARY.

At the beginning of the year, the Library of the Association consisted of 4,558 volumes. In the last annual report the number was stated to be 4,868, but on the evening of the last election, and before this Board came into office, 310 volumes were sold at auction, leaving in the Library only 4,558. There have been added during the present year:

|---|---|
| By purchase—volumes | 532 |
| By donation " | 82 |
| By binding periodicals and pamphlets | 102 |
| | 716 |
| Previously in Library | 4558 |
| Total | 5274 |

Through the exertions of James G. Jenkins, Esq., Chairman of the Library Committee, all the recent publications of the State Dept. at Madison, have been gratuitously furnished the Association. To the Hon. J. F. Potter, J. Marcou, of Switzerland, Messrs. Bamford & Baldwin, to the Superintendent of the Coast Survey, to the Department of the Interior, and to many members of our institution, the Association is indebted for valuable donations of books, pamphlets and reports.

RAILING AROUND THE LIBRARY.

The reports of the Library Committees for several years past have shown that a large number of books have been annually lost and stolen. This has been owing to the fact that all persons who could gain admittance to the rooms had unrestricted access to the books. The crowded condition of the room, at times, rendered it impossible for the Librarian to protect the library against theft.

Books were continually misplaced by persons not acquainted with their order, and a book misplaced became, for a time, useless, as it could not be obtained until, by accident, it was found and restored to its place again. The losses by theft, and the perplexities and inconveniencies arising from the misplacement of books, have been so great that the Directors have thought it for the interest of the Association to protect them by the railing now enclosing the shelving. No occasion could be more fit for beginning this system for their protection than the entrance into these new quarters.

READING ROOM.

The Reading Room connected with the Library was proposed and established in 1856. At that time the project met with much opposition; and the expense attending it was believed to seriously endanger the interests of the Association. It has, however, increased in public favor in proportion as the number of papers and periodicals increased, and is now the most popular feature of the institution. The present Board has endeavored to place on the files, in addition to the metropolitan journals, such local eastern papers as would furnish the news transpiring in those States, that have contributed any considerable number to our population. This has enabled parties recently coming to our city, by joining the Association, to get the use of such local papers, for a sum not exceeding their subscription price, and to enjoy all the advantages of the Library besides. No other inducements offered by the Association have been so fruitful in securing new members.

The long-tried and worthy Librarian, E. C. Arnold, has been retained through the year, and has been faithfully aided by Samuel Peacock, his Assistant.

The Board a few months since adopted a new rule, requiring the rooms to be kept open from 9 o'clock A. M. till 9 P. M., and increased the salaries of the Librarian and his Assistant to correspond with the additional labor.

GERMAN PAPERS.

It has been the opinion of your President that whenever the size of the Reading Room would permit, papers published in the German language should also be introduced embracing not only those published in Milwaukee, and the leading cities in this country, but a few pictorial and political journals published in the German States.

There are the same number of papers published in this city in the German as in the English language. The readers of German papers, nearly, if not quite, equal in number the readers of English papers. They follow every vocation that the present members of the Association do, and prize no less the advantages of reading. The space in our reading room has not hitherto been sufficient to permit the introduction of a respectable number of German papers. This difficulty will doubtless be soon remedied. Should this be the case, and a reasonable number of attractive German papers be introduced, a very large increase of German members might be expected, and a corresponding increase in the revenues of the Association.

LECTURES.

The lectures given before the Association during the year have been attended with unusual success. Fifteen lectures have been already given, and the sixteenth will be delivered during the present week, by the Hon. E. G. Ryan. The receipts have been from

The profits will doubtless be increased by the receipts from Mr. Ryan's lecture.

With the exception of the memorable course of 1853, the lectures this winter have been the most profitable ever given before the Association. The first lecture of Parson Brownlow was a gratuity to the holders of season tickets. Had he, during the month of March assured the committee that he would fulfil the engagement, the profits of the course would have been increased about two hundred dollars, and in that case would far have exceeded the sum realized in 1853. The committee have endeavored to procure none but first class lecturers. The experience of this winter has demonstrated that it is better for the Association, as well as better for the public, to employ the best lecturers even at exorbitant prices. Cheap lecturers damage the Association and disgust the public.

The correspondence of the Lecture Committee has been larger and the duties greater than in any former year. They have been untiring in their efforts to provide lectures that would be acceptable to the public and profitable to the Association. To them, and especially to Wm. G. Whipple, Esq., the efficient Chairman of the Committee, the Association and the public are indebted for the pleasures and the profits of the course.

NEW ROOMS.

For several years past there has been a very general feeling that the old rooms of the Association were entirely inadequate to its wants. Immediately after the organization of the present Board, a special committee was appointed to consider the project of a new building. Frequent meetings of that committee were held to devise plans by which one could be erected, and active efforts were made to carry the most feasible of these plans into effect. It was found however, that our national troubles absorbed the attention and charities of the public, and the committee were compelled, reluctantly, to defer the project to a more favorable year. It was then deemed best to exchange the old quarters for others better fitted for the purposes of the Association. These new rooms, in which we are this evening, for the first time, assembled, were believed by the Directors to combine more advantages than any others that could be procured. They were certainly a vast improvement over the old rooms. There the entrance was repulsive and difficult of access, the room limited, and above all, both the reading and library rooms were so badly lighted as to seriously endanger the eyes of those who frequented them. These rooms, on the contrary, are easy of access, abundantly lighted, and furnish ample space for our growing library.

The proprietors, Messrs. Jermain and Brightman, have fixed the rent at the mere nominal sum of three hundred dollars. The committee to whose care the selection of the rooms was entrusted, examined all the buildings constructed, or in process of construction, that were centrally located, and could obtain no rooms as large as these for a rent less than one thousand dollars. Your Directors believed, for the present, it would be expedient to pay only three hundred dollars for rent, and invest the other seven hundred dollars annually, in books.

NEW READING ROOM.

For a small additional compensation, Messrs. Jermain and Brightman offered to furnish a large, adjoining room, for a reading room. The present Board thought it best to determine by experience whether this room can accommodate both the books and papers, and allow the incoming officers to secure the other room if they should think it desirable. Since the lease for the rooms was executed, the proprietors have cheerfully made changes from time to time, to suit the convenience of the Association. The addition of a new room could be made in a short time at a small expense.

Your officers believe that these rooms are rented at a very moderate compensation. The proprietors fixed the rent at so small a sum, with a desire to encourage and assist our institution, and are deserving of the thanks of the members for the generosity and spirit of accommodation they have exhibited in all matters pertaining to the rooms.

The care and labor of selecting and fitting up the rooms have devolved chiefly upon Mr. J. C. Montgomery, the Chairman of the Building Committee. He has visited, during the year, the libraries of Eastern Associations, and has spared no efforts to introduce their improvements into these rooms. He has also donated to the Association the costly chandeliers before you, which now are and will continue to be, burning and shining testimonials of his generosity.

FINANCE.

|---|---|
| The report of the Treasurer shows the gross receipts for the year to have been..... | $5,564 17 |
| Receipts, last year, ending May. 1862..... | 3,594 47 |
| Increase..... | $1,969 70 |

The receipts for the year ending May 1st, 1862, exceeded those of any previous year.

From the receipts of this year, the general expenses of the Association have been paid, a large number of volumes added to the Library, and these rooms fitted up at a cost of $815 05.

The management will be transferred to the new Board without debts, and with a balance in the Treasury amounting to $107 94.

NEW BUILDING.

However well these rooms may temporarily suit the purposes of the Association, they fall far below what we may expect to secure in a few years. A new building in a central location should be erected with a capacious hall and rooms for the Association, Musical Society, and other kindred organizations. Such a building could most easily be erected by a joint stock company, with shares at so small a figure as to permit every member of the Association, and every public spirited citizen, to assist in its construction. As the Association grows it can acquire this stock either by purchase or donation, as Associations have done in other cities, until it becomes slowly but surely the owner of a building, worthy of its library and the objects for which it is founded.

The past history of the Association has been one of continued struggles. Too great praise cannot be given those friends and patrons who watched with solicitude its varying fortunes in its early years. By their assiduous care and unwearied efforts it has grown strong beyond its years. To-day, independent of donations or profits of lecture courses, it is a paying institution.

Its revenue from memberships not only meets expenses but provides a handsome surplus for the purchase of books. It has just begun to develop its resources. If the same interest is felt, and the same untiring efforts are made in the future as in the past, it will become more and more a source of intellectual profit to the community, exalting all classes, supplying them with books—those best of all friends—and creating a wealth of intellect, which, more than banks or beautiful buildings, will make our city respected wherever its name is known.

DEATH OF FRANK D. SHEPARD.

On the 25th day of January our Board of Officers was broken by the death of your Secretary, Frank D. Shepard. He fell a victim to consumption, engendered by his love of books. He was an active member both of the Lecture and Library Committees, and rarely passed a day without visiting the rooms of the Association, and devoting some time to its interests. His reading was unusually extensive, and his knowledge of the library was only equalled by that of our Librarian. While he was esteemed by all his acquaintances, he was especially beloved by us who knew the kindness and nobleness of his life. As he lived, so he died, joyfully exchanging the life here for the life immortal.

THE PRESENT BOARD.

Your President cannot close this report without bearing testimony to the deep solicitude which has been felt during the year by every member of this Board, for the welfare of the Association. They have given it no divided attention. They have sacrificed their own interests often, to faithfully fulfil the trusts confided in them. Upon one question only they have been divided; then personal considerations were sunk to determine how the Association could be best kept from harm.

To its management, the incoming Board may bring more wisdom, but in its welfare they cannot feel a deeper interest.

Trusting that to the same interest in its management may be added greater wisdom, and that its prosperity may far exceed its years, your officers cheerfully surrender their cares and honors to the successors whom you shall designate.

F. W. PITKIN, President

MILWAUKEE, May 5th, 1863.

NOTE.—For the plan on which this, as well as the preceding Supplement is arranged, and a Synopsis of the classification on the shelves of the Library, the reader is referred to pages 42 and 177-9 of the general Catalogue.

As a matter of convenience, Periodicals, Department Reports, and many other continuous publications, have been retained under the same names, in this, as in the general Catalogue; and in each, the abbreviation, (Ed'r,) has been used convertably for Editors, Compilers, and all other than original Authors or Translators, under whose auspices works have been brought out.

The haste with which this Supplement was necessarily prepared, is offered as an apology for whatever typographical or other defects may be found therein. A.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

OF THE

YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION

MAY, 1865.

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Association:

On behalf of the Board, I submit to you the eighteenth annual report of the Directors of the Young Men's Association:

FINANCE.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| The Treasurer's report herewith presented shows the receipts from all sources to be... | | $9,433 70 |
| The expenditures..... ..... | | 7,612 52 |
| Balance in the treasury..... | | $1,821,18 |

MEMBERSHIP.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| The number of members at the date of the last annual report was..... ..... | | 1,544 |
| New members added during the year, including one life member..... ... ..... | | 334 |
| | | 1,378 |
| Deduct decrease by removal..... | 189 | |
| " " " resignation and forfeiture..... | 85 | |
| Deduct decrease by death.... ..... | 10 | —284 |
| Total present number of members..... | | 1,594 |

This estimate includes some members who have not paid the April dues, but whom it is reasonably supposed will comply with the rules before the coming election.

The net proceeds of the course of lectures amount to $2,555.83.

The total number of volumes added to the library during the year is 879, making the whole number of volumes, at the present date, 6,934. Several additions have also been made to our periodical and newspaper files.

As the reports of the respective Committees, and of the Treasurer, supply the detail of receipts and expenditures, I need not re-capitulate the items, but cannot refrain from expressing the gratification which we feel, at the evidence they furnish of the substantial prosperity of the Association. While the course of lectures during the past season has resulted in an unprecedented increase to the funds from that source, the general condition of the Association is also highly satisfactory. Notwithstanding the loss of members by enlistment and other causes of removal, and, although our last election was marked by no unusual excitement, we have more than held our own, and the increase of new members is considerably in excess of any losses. We feel the greater pleasure in these evidences of our success, as they indicate that the Association is now deemed a necssity by those who appreciate literary advantages at their proper value, and who take a just pride in the reputation of our fair city in that regard.

DONATIONS.

Acknowledgements are due to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, for a set of the publications of the III. Session of the XXXVII. Congress; to Prof. Henry, for recent issues of the Smithsonian Institution; to the Hon. A. D. Bache for the last Report of the U. S. Coast Survey; to the Hon. James S. Brown, for a number of Congressional Publications; to our Secretary of State and Superintendent of Public Property for a donation through the Hon. Levi Hubbell, of State Publications for 1864; to the Hon. Geo. A. Starkweather for 116 volumes of Public Documents; to Mrs. Abby, Mrs. S Babcock and Miss Brown, and to Messrs. Dr. Huebschman, M. Schœffler, E. P. Hotchkiss, Hoffman Bros., Wm. Daniell, Isaac Chandler, (of Great Falls, N. H.,) L. Damon and Michael Newton for valuable contributions of books, the last named being in the Chinese language. Our thanks are also extended to kindred Associations, and to several Colleges and Charitable Institutions for their respective reports; to W. Y. Sellick, Esq., our State Military Agent, for his report; to W. J. Langson, Esq., for the report of the Trade and Commerce of Milwaukee for 1864; and to Messrs. Jermain & Brightman, P. L. Mossin, Dr. H. S. Brown, A. B. Smith, J. A. Noonan, Gustav Pfeil, T. M. Gwynne, and Geo. A. Treyser for sundry publications in pamphlet form. To Wm. H Sherman, Esq., as on former occasions, we are indebted for photographs of the lecturers of the current course, and to Alex. Marquis, Jr., for one of an officer of the Association. We cannot too highly commend the consideration of those who make the Library the depository of their gifts—in some cases of books which would be comparatively valueless in private collections, but among the members of our large Association find many interested readers.

The late date at which the entire profits of our Lecture course were ascertained, precluded the possibility of such a disposition of the funds, in the purchase of books, as we desired. Our Library Committee, however, have made as large a selection among the more recent publications as was deemed desirable. It was thought more time was necessary to prepare a list of such standard works in History, Biography, Science, and General Literature, as the Library is most defficient in. For this purpose we have invited the suggestions of members, and with the Catalogues of other Associaciations to consult, we trust our successors, to whom the duty is necessarily remitted, will find no diffieulty in completing the purchase.

On them also will devolve the determination regarding the publication of a proper list of the new volumes added. The balance of the last Cotalogue will hardly suffice another year, and if a supplementary catalogue is published this year, the additional expense of a complete catalogue may become necessary in 1866, whereas the publication of the latter this year, may obviate a part of the outlay.

The profits of the course of Lectures have come to be regarded as belonging to the Library, and if this view is adhered to, the consideration of ways and means in that particular, will also belong to the future Board of Directors. The trifling advance of fifty cents on the semi-annnal dues, has been suggested as a provision for the cost of publishing an entire catalogue, a large portion of which cannot be re-imbursed to the Treasury, by sales, for several years. This would necessitate the calling of a special meeting of the members to make the required amendment in the General Rules. It has been a matter of surprise, on the part of the best friends of the Association, that the example of most other institutions has not been followed in this respect. All action on these points, however, we have deemed best to leave to the wisdom of those whom your choice shall elect to fill our places.

In conclusion, I must express my great acknowledgements to the members of the present board, who have so ably seconded my endeavors, and to whose services in committees, the chief meed of praise is due, for the success of the past year.

Very respectfully,

F. B. MILES, President.
